WEDNESDAY, JUNE 26, 1901.

Clemson College has just closed the most successful year in its history. The College has had 450 cadets on its roll and has been forced to turn away many because of lack of room. The new barracks being built will accommodate 150 boys, so that an attendance of 600 is expected next fall.

The past year has been an unusually prosperous one for South Carolina's schools and colleges. In the State, sectarian and non-denominational private institutions the attendance has been unusually large, while the graduating classes have contained a greater number than in almost any previous year.

Capt. D. C. Heyward, of Walterboro, has been nominated by the Walterboro Press and Standard as a candidate for Governor next year, and in another column we publish a short communication from one of our citizens endorsing the nomination. Capt. Heyward is a leading farmer of Colleton County, and is a man who has always possessed the unbounded confidence and highest respect of his many friends throughout the State. He has had very little to do with politics, and is eminently qualified to fill the Executive chair of South Carolina.

It does not disturb people living at present to learn that the coal measures of England are being rapidly exhausted and that the same fate will eventually befall the United States, say in 300 years. But men are prospecting at that point and we are also informed that China possesses an unlimited supply of coal, almost untouched, and the inference is that, in the far future, as the metal supremacy of the world is leaving England and going to the United States, China will, with her coal and iron measures become, ultimately, the most extensive and enduring industrial empire of the world. Probably before 300 years have passed coal will no longer be in request for fuel. Oil or something else may take its place. At any rate we who now inhabit this planet need not worry over what may happen centuries hence. We will not be here, and the other fellows to come after us may be left to their own devices.

The American girl is rapidly proving that she is superior to the American boy in a great many respects when it comes to getting an education. It may not be true that girls are brighter than their male fellow students, but it is undoubtedly true that they are more conscientious, to begin with, and that counts for much. Then they take pride in their work, and that is a wonderful spur in effort. Every high school commencement furnishes proof of the fact that girls work harder and to better purpose than do the boys. Almost always four-fifths of the graduates are girls, and the great majority of them go through the twelve years of school work without missing a single promotion. Some boys are compelled to drop out of the high schools to go to work, but in many instances the dropping out is due to indolence. The American boy should stand up and give an account of himself. Is he willing to admit that he cannot keep up with the American girl in the race for education, either because of inferior mental powers or because he is lazy and indifferent to the opportunities that are presented to him?

The prosperity of the South is a subject of much discussion among northern capitalists and in the newspapers of that section. The discussion will no doubt result in much solid and substantial good to this section, and the good work has been largely augmented by the Southern Industrial Convention recently held in Philadelphia. In this connection the New York World presents some interesting facts and figures. After stating that the South includes one-fourth of the total area and one-third of the population of the United States the World notes that its cotton and cotton seed alone gave it an income last year of $545,000,000—the largest value of any single crop in the world. Its corn and its lumber product brought it the sum of $300,000,000. Moreover, the South raises 80 per cent of all its coal, produces 18 per cent of its iron, has 30 per cent of its total railroad mileage and a steadily increasing percentage of its manufacturing. The growth of its cotton mills has been simply wonderful. These conditions lead the World to the conclusion that New England's old supremacy in the manufacturing of cotton is gone; never probably to return. "Taking one thing with another," it says, "they are doing very well indeed 'away down South in Dixie.'"

Senator McLaurin has accepted an invitation to address the voters of the Piedmont section at Spartanburg on July 4th.

The first bale of cotton of the 1901 crop was shipped from Nueces County, Texas, to Houston, on Thursday, 20th inst. It is claimed this breaks the world's record for early cotton by four days.

The new third party has been launched in St. Louis. It claims to be in sympathy with Bryan, but it looks as if it is going to make any kind of deals to get ahead. Bryan denies any connection whatever with it.

A Good Man Suggested for Governor.

Editor Intelligencer: Your course as a journalist, through all the years of turmoil which have followed the upheaval of 1899, has been so calm and conservative that I feel sure you will take very kindly to a proposition to elect a man to the office of Governor who is not a partisan and has never been a politician. Such a man is D. C. Heyward, of Colleton, who has just been suggested by his local papers for the office of Governor. Capt. Heyward is a gentleman of the purest character and most unblemished life. He is a fine speaker, highly educated and fully informed on all public questions. Withal, he has all his life been a farmer, and is, therefore, closely identified in interest with the most numerous class of our population. Don't you think the people of this State would be glad of the opportunity to vote for such and thereby tell the politicians that they are tired of them? I do.

Wooden Shoes in New York.

"I was surprised the other day to find a man who makes a specialty of wooden shoes," said the man with the red mustache. "In my ignorance I had supposed that there was not a sample of that kind of footwear to be found in New York, unless it might be a few specimens brought over by German and Dutch immigrants, but I know now that there is at least one person in town who considers the fashioning of wooden shoes a fine art and who pursues his calling diligently."

"This man, who is of German birth, is housed in a little narrow shop up on East Fifty-ninth street. His workshop is nothing more than an old disused hallway, but in these close quarters he has stowed away all the appliances of his craft, and there he whittles and planes away steadily on his ungainly footwear."

"Upon my expressing surprise that an occupation so antiquated and foreign could yield him any sort of income in this town he explained that there are hundreds of residents of New York who retain their fondness for the shoes they were accustomed to wear when young, and that in the privacy of their own homes and on the streets in their own immediate neighborhood they still go stomping about in wooden shoes."

"This particular shoemaker turns out, he tells me, no fewer than 150 pairs of shoes a year, which sell for 75 cents to $2 a pair, according to the size and amount of fine work on them. Most of these shoes are made to order, but he keeps a small stock on hand to supply the wants of chance customers who may happen to need a pair of shoes in a hurry and are not particular as to size and style."

"While I stood there talking to the little cobbler he had a call from a woman whose wooden-shod feet rang out loudly on the bare floor, and when I saw her go tramping around in that primitive gear I made up my mind that I wouldn't be surprised to see adopted New Yorkers wearing Oriental sandals in the streets next."—New York Sun.

If the existing plans should be carried out, the question of the relative cost of steam and electricity on long distance railways may be partly settled, at least.

Midway News.

Rev. J. L. McLin preached a very interesting sermon last Sunday, which was sincerely received by the members and several visitors.

Misses Vernie and Dora Martin and Kara Reed, three young ladies from Williamston Female College, have returned home to spend their vacation.

Mr. Mack Martin, who is suffering with rheumatism, we regret to note, is not improving much.

Two of our young ladies were consulting a very serious subject a few days ago on matrimony. It seemed that the widowers were the only ones with them. One used a very flattering expression just as a lady stepped in the house and said: "Girls, you don't know who is setting on the piazza, do you?"

The last heavy rains have damaged the bottoms very much and are now in a bad condition. It will be a hard matter to make corn on them this year.

The health of this community is very good at this writing, and everybody seems to be in a big hurry to work.

Messrs. A. N. Fortune, Berry Wilson and F. J. Rhody and Misses Pearl, Nora and Sudie McConnell and Gertrude Rhody enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon on Monday, June 17, fishing and hunting flowers. The fish were very hungry and they caught eight, so large it was with great difficulty that they could be handled at all.

The farmers have finished cutting wheat, which is not as good as they expected.

Messrs. A. N. Fortune and Berry Wilson were in our midst a few days last week. They may rest assured of a cordial welcome.

One of our young gents felt very much struck when he opened a package and found that old letters was the contents. Don't take it so hard, old boy, there are better fish in the sea than ever has been caught out.

Cotton is very much behind this year, and there are a few farmers who are not yet through thinning, but we hope it will soon catch up and yield an abundant crop.

One of the President's Cars.

The Southern Railway having inaugurated "Gentlemen's Club Cars" on the Washington and Southwestern Limited between Atlanta and New York making this one of the finest passenger trains in the United States, has succeeded in obtaining as one of the cars for use on these trains Gentlemen's Club Car "Atlantic," which was recently used by President McKinley on his tour to the Pacific Coast.

No better guarantee of the elegance of these Club Cars could be given than that they are of the class of Pullman equipment selected by the President for his tour which, as a matter of course, is of the finest workmanship and latest design.

Shoe Sales

SEEK SUMMER STIMULANTS.

WE don't propose to hold Sunday School during the week, nor to open a sleeping joint at our place during the dull season this Summer. We haven't slept a little bit since Sept. 1st, but have kept things howling at a lively clip, and as a result we have doubled our business of last year, as evidenced by our sales-book. Now, we defy the dullness of Summer, and in making a new record propose to make one that can't be beat without hustling. Our Goods are all paid for, and are ours to do with just as we see fit. So, just to liven up the sleeping animals a bit we will throw our entire Stock of newly arrived—

Summer Shoes

On the market at prices that will make our unfortunate competitors foam at the mouth. We are sorry for them, but foaming is mighty good for some folks. They're powerful good and pretty, (the Shoes, we mean,) but they've got to go. We can't bear to be so lonesome during these hot months, and if we can't swell the crowds at our counters one way, we'll do it another. When we say that our Shoes are of the best quality, those who have traded with us the longest know that they are up to the standard.

This is the Store you've heard so much about—that you can trade with us safely, even with your eyes shut.

Don't forget that we are the largest distributors of—

CORN, HAY, FLOUR, TOBACCO,

And everything else people and horses eat. If it isn't here it isn't anywhere.

McCormick Mowers and Reapers!

McCormick Mowers have the lightest draft, the simplest gearing, the longest and strongest pitmans, widest and strongest frames, largest wheels and the most excellent and fine Cutter Bars of any Mowers on the market.

There is not a point in the mechanism of these excellent Mowers in which any expert can fail to appreciate their superiority.

In case you come in contact with stumps or other obstructions the Cutter Bars of these Mowers can be raised by a simple pressure of the trip with the foot or a pull of the lever with the hand, without stopping to throw the machine out of gear; after passing such obstruction simply drop the Cutter Bar with the lever and the machine is automatically thrown back into gear and continued to cut as before.

This is only one of the many good features of the McCormick.

We invite you to let us demonstrate some of the many others to you, and we wish to impress upon you the fact that there is no Mower on the market that will require as few repairs as the matchless McCormick.
